

May 1, 2010 GDL Changes

1. GDL Identifier - Will be a small velcro colored square which must be affixed to the front and rear license plate of the vehicle whenever a Permit Driver or Probationary Driver (name change from Provisional to Probationary as of May 1) is operating the vehicle.

- The GDL Identifier will be available at DMV.
- This rule will be in effect for every student who has a permit or a probationary license.
- Fine for failing to display GDL identifier is $100.00

Note: A new driver is probationary for one full year from the time they get license (often confused with turning 18). This is not a change, just a reminder.

2. Night Time Operation - The night time operation will be up till 11:00 PM for both permit drivers and probationary drivers.

3. Passenger Rules - No restriction of passengers (family or non-family) if a parent or legal guardian is in the vehicle. Pertains to both Permit Drivers and Probationary Drivers.

If the parent or guardian is not in the vehicle, only one additional person is permitted in the vehicle. Does not matter if it's a family members or not. Pertains to both the Permit Driver and Probationary Driver.
